e-TRaining In Gerontology and GERiatrics

About IAGG-FGE

The mission of the International Association of Gerontology and Geriatrics (IAGG) and the Federation of Geriatric Education (FGE) is to promote the highest level of achievement in gerontological research and training worldwide.

<https://iagg.site/>

The e-TRIGGER programme

Building on its experience in international online education, IAGG-FGE and HSeT developed the e-TRaining In Gerontology and GERiatrics (e-TRIGGER) programme to expand access to high-quality education in gerontology and geriatrics worldwide.

<https://iagg-fge.org>

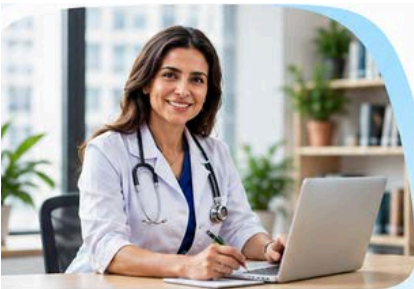

Health Sciences e-Training Foundation educational partnership

The Swiss Health Science e-Training Foundation (HSeT) develops e-learning programmes that are tailored to the needs of specific groups of trainees as defined by the institutions themselves.

Who can apply?

Physicians and physicians in training

Medical doctors interested in ageing and care of older adults and who are on track to achieve academic tenure, professorship, or high-responsibility clinical positions.

Experienced professionals

Highly experienced health professionals engaged in community care and hospital management of older people.

Healthcare professionals

The programme is also suitable for non-physician healthcare professionals, from all backgrounds, involved in the care of older adults.

Academic, clinical and community leaders

The programme also suits medical students, clinicians and community leaders who are interested in geriatric medicine and gerontology but do not have access to specialised instruction at their institution.

What will you gain?

Strengthen your practice

Translate current knowledge in geriatrics and gerontology into better decisions for older adults. Apply evidence-based approaches to address the challenges of ageing and promote healthy ageing.

Build an international network

Learn alongside healthcare professionals from Africa, the Middle East and Europe and develop lasting professional connections across countries and disciplines.

Develop leadership skills

Develop your problem-solving skills and strengthen your ability to assess and integrate multidimensional information at individual and population levels through interactive activities.

Learn by doing

Discuss real-world cases, work in multidisciplinary teams, and apply clinical, preventive, and community interventions to practical challenges in ageing care.

Gain international recognition

Demonstrate your commitment to healthy ageing through an IAGG certificate recognising 60 hours of professional development.

How does the e-TRIGGER programme work?

12 monthly online training sessions, with participants joining from different geographic time zones connected simultaneously. Each live session lasts 3 hours and is led by international experts working on a voluntary basis. The session is recorded to enable later viewing, in case of absence.

Interactive live sessions

Join 12 engaging online sessions focused on key topics in geriatric medicine and gerontology. Interact in real-time with expert course instructors and connect with fellow trainees. Sessions are held once a month on a Thursday from 14:00–17:00 CET/CEST

Assignments

Regional team activities on distinct geriatric topics in which you will interact with trainees in your language. Annotated scientific papers and case studies as educational tools to enhance your knowledge.

Knowledge assessment

Your knowledge will be evaluated with quizzes designed by our expert tutors, based on the key messages of each session. Active participation in live sessions will also be considered by the tutors.

Programme Certificate

Earn a prestigious IAGG World certificate of participation upon successful completion of 10 out of 12 course quizzes, plus a final exam (quiz).

KNOWLEDGE
TODAY

BETTER CARE
TOMORROW

A 60-hour training certificate, corresponding to 36 hours of lectures per year, participation in team activities, analysis of article-based learning, and personal self-learning.
